"We all deserve timely access to high quality healthcare, regardless of where we live. In the Columbia Valley, it is difficult to overstate the importance of the Fairmont Airport, which provides the region's only 24-hour airport capable of supporting fixed-wing air ambulance services and helps ensure that when critically ill patients need specialized care most, distance is less of a barrier."

Dr. Gareth Mannheimer,
Invermere Medical Clinic

In 2024/2025, the Airport supported 142 medical evacuations and 6 charitable medical flights provided by Angel Flights.

Angel Flight East Kootenay is a volunteer-driven registered charity that provides free air transportation for East Kootenay residents travelling to medical appointments in Kelowna. Since launching in 2019, our volunteer pilots have helped thousands of patients access specialized healthcare unavailable closer to home. By reducing travel time, costs, and stress, we help patients focus on what matters most: their health. Through the generosity of donors, volunteers, and community partners, we continue to improve access to necessary healthcare throughout the region. Photo provided by Angel Flight East Kootenay.

The Columbia Valley Airport Society (CVAS) is the volunteer governing body for the Fairmont Hot Springs public airport (CYCZ) in Fairmont Hot Springs, BC. The Society serves to ensure the airport remains operational as an essential service for the Columbia Valley area (Canal Flats to Spillimacheen).

The airport opened in 1986, has a 6,000-foot long by 100ft wide paved runway and is open year-round to landings from all aircraft, up to and including Boeing 737s. The public airport offers parking, refueling services and is manned during operating hours by volunteers.
